

Happy Teachers Day!

In India September 5 is celebrated as teacher's day to honour TEACHERS for their contributions in shaping the life of students. September 5 is also the birth anniversary of Bharat Ratna recipient Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, an educationist at heart. He was the first vice President and second President of India, post-independence. He is one of India's most distinguished 20th century scholars of comparative religion and philosophy. He was a professor in various Indian and international colleges and universities. He believed that teachers should be the best minds in the country. His birthday is celebrated as teacher's day in India.

Teaching is not a profession, but a way of life. Teacher's determination and sincerity will shape the destiny of the nation as they are laying the foundation and the building blocks of the society.
