ABOUT PSSCIVE

The Pandit Sunderlal Sharma Central Institute of Vocational Education (PSSCIVE) is an apex research and development organisation in the field of vocational education. It is a constituent unit of National Council of Educational Research and Training (NCERT), established in 1993 by the Government of India. It is also a UNEVOC (UNESCO's International Project on Technical and Vocational Education) Network Centre in India.

The Institute has made significant contributions to vocational education in India. It is developing vocational curricula, textbooks, and digital resources, benefiting thousands of students and teachers. The Institute focuses on states/UT capacity building through training programmes for key officials and vocational teachers. PSSCIVE also conducts research to improve vocational practices. It is implementing an innovative model of vocational education in schools and has developed various guidelines. PSSCIVE is involved in the development of Virtual Skill Labs and it offers. Diploma in Vocational Education and Training for professional development of teachers.

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

Vocational Education and Training (VET) is a crucial component of education systems worldwide, aiming to prepare individuals for specific occupation. The National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 recognizes the importance of VET in providing learners with practical skills, enhancing employability, and developing entrepreneurial skills. It emphasizes the integration of vocational education into main stream education to create a more comprehensive and flexible teaching learning system.

The conference on Perspective and Practices in Vocational Education and Training has been planned to bring together educators, policymakers, researchers, industry representatives, and other stakeholders to discuss issues and challenges, and exchange ideas about VET.

This conference will provide a platform to share knowledge, engage in critical discussions, and collaborate on strategies for improving the quality of teaching vocational education and training. This will shape the future of VET by promoting innovation, inclusivity, and alignment with market demands. The outcomes of the conference will contribute to the ongoing development and improvement of VET systems nationally and globally.

OBJECTIVES

1. To deliberate upon the strategies and approaches in VET to be adopted by the education system to meet the evolving skill needs of learners and the job market.
2. To explore opportunities for collaborations, partnerships, and knowledge transfer, enabling participants to learn from different local and global contexts of VET and adapt successful practices and innovative ideas to their own settings.
3. To explore strategies for ensuring equal access to opportunities, addressing gender and social biases, and promoting equity in VET.
4. To promote the integration of Vocational Education in school system as per National Curriculum Framework (NCF) 2023.

THEMES

The key thematic areas of significance for deliberation are as follows:

- Integration of Emerging Technologies in Curriculum
- Competency-based Assessment and Evaluation
- Technological Advancements in Vocational Education
- Entrepreneurship Development and Small Business Management
- Green Skills and Sustainable Practices
- Inclusive Education and Diverse Workforce
- Emerging Trends in VET with reference to NEP 2020
- Integration of Vocational Education in schools as per NCF-2023
